Glengarriff – The natural meeting place

www.glengarriff.ie

Glengarriff – Natural meeting place & more

Glengarriff is famed for its natural beauty. Situated on world-renowned Bantry Bay where the mountains meet the sea, Glengarriff has much to offer lovers of the great outdoors, gardens, sports, the sea, and much more besides. The gateway to the Beara Peninsula, connecting the towns of Bantry and Kenmare, Glengarriff has also acquired a fine reputation for its great variety of shops, galleries, accommodation, restaurants, pubs and services. This Business Directory has a wealth of information about the variety of Glengarriff businesses and services on offer.

Glengarriff has been famous as a holiday destination since the 1700s and boomed in the Victorian times as an important stop along the Prince-of-Wales-Route. Today Glengarriff attracts visitors from all over the world and the population of 800 expands significantly during the summer months.

Recreational facilities

- Garinish Island – world-renowned garden island celebrating its 100th Anniversary.
- Glengarriff Nature Reserve – unique old oak woodland walks.
- Blue Pool Park - the public area in the heart of the village.
- Glengarriff Bamboo Park – fascinating exotic garden.
- The Ewe – Ireland's only interactive sculpture garden.
- Glengarriff Harbour and the Caha Mountains – offering a wide range of activities.
- Glengarriff adventure playground – the children's choice.
- Arts, Crafts & Shopping – Galleries showing a wide range of art, sculpture, crafts, leatherwork, fashion, gifts and woollens.
- Swimming – Seal Point in the Blue Pool is popular. Zetland, 7km from Glengarriff on R572 to Castletownbere, is a picturesque sandy cove, Snave on the Bantry road also has a small beach.
- Seal Colony – Ireland's largest Harbour Seal colony.
- Fishing – River, sea and lake fishing. Permits available locally.
- Entertainment – Traditional Music and dance is available almost every night in local bars and hotels.

For things to do in the area there are 3 informative brochures available locally.
Walking in Glengarriff, serves as the walker's reliable companion.
50 Things to do in Glengarriff is a selection of the finest activities.
Visit Garinish Island tells all you need to know about this garden paradise.

Dear Visitor

Welcome to Glengarriff, the natural meeting place at the heart of West Cork. This brochure will hopefully help make your stay in Glengarriff a pleasurable and memorable one. The Business Directory 2011 offers you a wide choice of facilities and activities as well as numerous services.

Our accommodation includes hotels, B&Bs, hostels, self catering cottages, caravan and camping sites. These are all designed to make your stay a pleasant experience. The hotels, restaurants, bars and coffee shops offer a taste for every palate and a price for every pocket. The shops and galleries present a wide selection of products and gifts for both visitors and locals.

Last year we celebrated the purchase on 12th August 1910 of Garinish Island by John Annan Bryce MP and his wife, Violet, and the start of the development of the world-renowned semi-tropical Gardens. Instrumental in much of this work was Murdo Mackenzie, Head Gardener on the island from 1928 until his retirement in 1971. We will be marking the 40th anniversary of Murdo's retirement. As well as promoting the other visitor attractions, the Ewe Gallery, the Bamboo Park and the Glengarriff Nature Reserve, we will be continuing the celebrations of Garinish 100, so look out locally for the ongoing Garinish 100 events.

Most importantly Glengarriff – the natural meeting place – with its unrivalled beauty, its peace and tranquility, invites you to sit back, relax and take in the very special ambience of the place.

Enjoy your stay, tell your friends and come back soon!

Colm Mac Carthy

Chairperson, Glengarriff Tourism & Development Association
